DEDICATION

We proudly dedicate this 45th Edition of the Ad Astra Annual

TO

MISS CATHERINE C. WILSON

GRADUATE, TEACHER, LIBRARIAN AND FAITHFUL FRIEND

DAVID CATTON

Architectural drawing of a building facade, showing a grid pattern and arched windows. The drawing is oriented vertically on the page.

.Foreword.

On a shelf in my office there is a book entitled "I Dare You". In it the author challenges you to the fourfold way of living. He dares you —

*To stand tall
To think tall
To smile tall
To live tall.*

Will you ponder these for a few moments? What is he really saying? Does he expect you to go around grinning like a Cheshire cat all the time? Does he expect you to become a six-footer, when you know that is physically impossible? I believe you are being challenged to assess yourself as you are to-day, and to do something about it for to-morrow.

Why are you in school? Because your parents, or the law, insist? Because you can earn more money with a higher education? Is it just to have a place to keep warm? Or are you learning disciplines in your studies and in your extra-curricular activities which will help you to broaden your outlook and develop better judgment when you in your generation become responsible for keeping Canada great.

This school has traditionally sent forth a great number of students who have made their marks in the world. The world in which we live offers you greater challenge and opportunity than ever before. You have demonstrated in a great many ways during this year that our staff and student body do work as a team. The compiling of this Ad Astra Annual is an outstanding example of the co-operative spirit that pervades our institution. As you leaf through its pages numerous other examples will be reviewed in picture and story.

As I complete my first year as your principal I want you to know that I am proud of my teachers and my student body for the way they have responded. The challenge is still there. Will you take a dare?

What's ahead for you, young lady?

Are you continuing your education? Are you planning a career in business? If you are graduating this year, and thinking of a business career, we invite you to consider The Bell Telephone Company of Canada.

The Bell can help you select a career suited to your personal interests. You will receive job training and company courses of instruction in many important fields. You earn a good salary as well, and you help to maintain a public service essential to your community.

If you are looking for permanent employment, why not drop in at The Bell now and find out more about the opportunities in this important service.

If you are continuing your education you will be interested to know that Bell has splendid opportunities for you when you graduate from college. Keep us in mind, won't you?

Editorials.

"The function of an Editorial Page is to point with pride, view with alarm and occasionally recommend."

This past year was the first since 1954-55 in which our school played a prominent role, in the eyes of many Sarnians. Before that time ours was the only public secondary school in Sarnia. In that earlier era S.C.I. & T.S. was highly respected for the hard work, fair play, friendliness, courtesy, school spirit and pride instilled in each and every student. During the past year our school seemed to emerge from a dismal period in its history to an improved age.

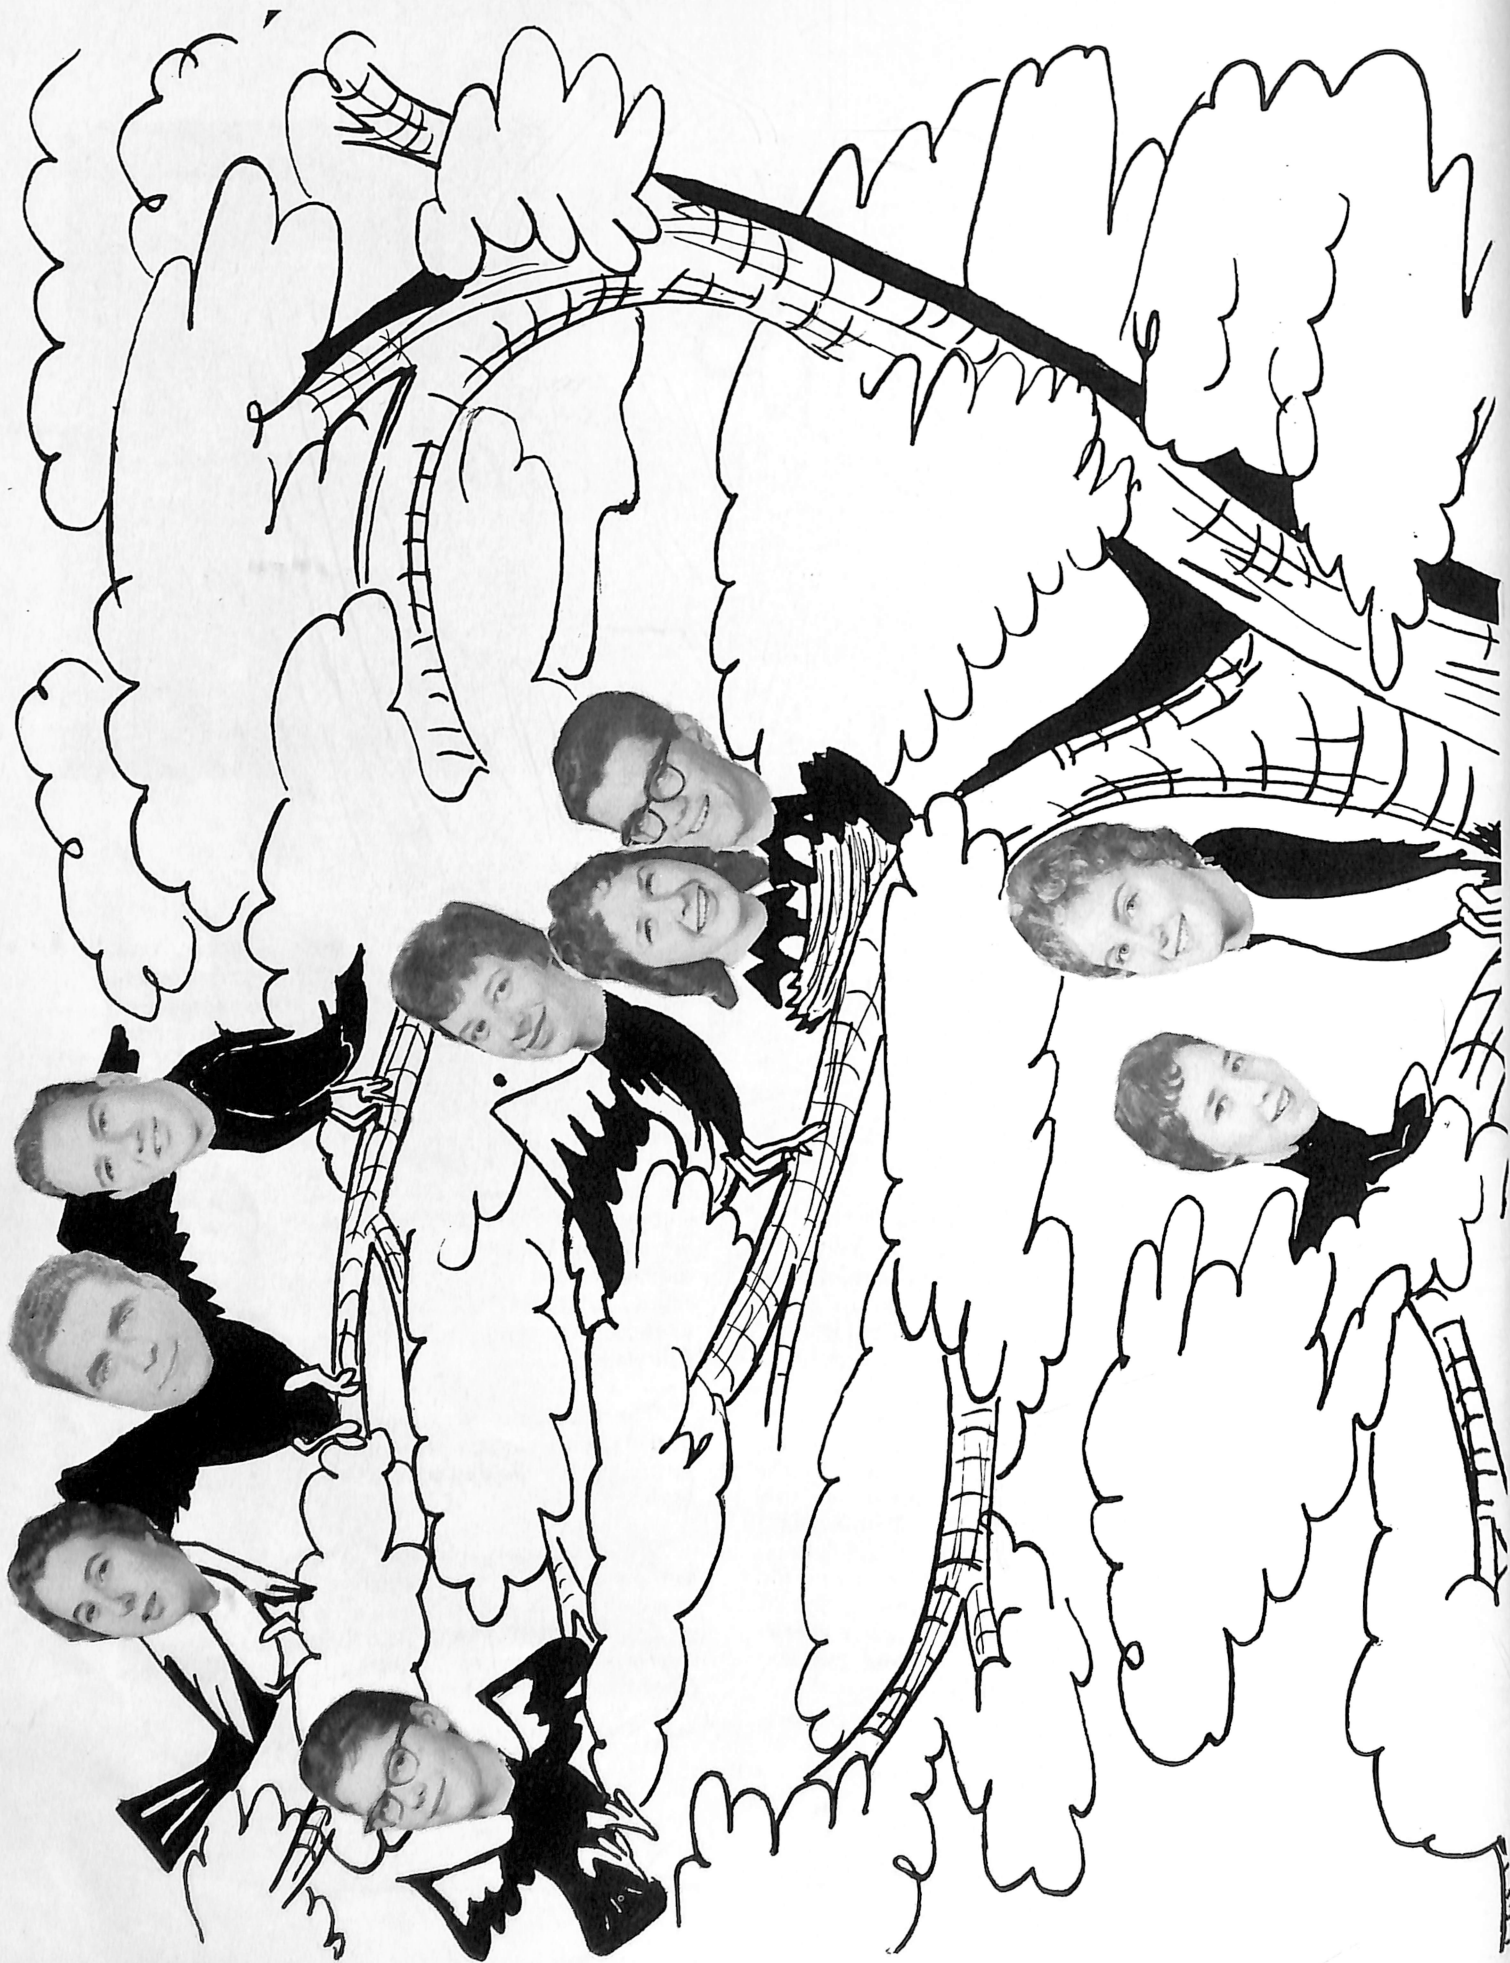

In this the Forty-Fifth Edition of the Ad Astra, the magazine staff points with pleasure to the numerous honours and awards given to our school. One of us won a trip to the United Nations through a public speaking contest. Three teams; namely, the Junior Soccer, Senior Soccer and the Rifle Team, were acclaimed City Champions in their various fields. Our school also received favourable publicity for other groups and individuals in it.

It is particularly unfortunate however, that several clubs in the school found it hard to operate this year. This magazine is a fine example of an organization which operated under poor conditions. Out of the twelve hundred people in S. C. I. & T. S., only eight comprised the Ad Astra Staff. These people under the guidance of Mr. Galpin worked extremely hard to produce this very fine year book. Our problem was not unique however, for the SCITS Club also suffered from a lack of student support. Due to a lack of interest during the casting for parts in the SCITS Revue, the club almost folded. Those students who come to this school next year will have to give more support to these two ventures, or our two oldest traditions will cease.

The magazine staff regrets that several groups and organizations were not covered in this year's issue, primarily due to a shortage of staff members.

We are deeply indebted to Mr. D.E. Galpin, our staff-advisor, who helped us to solve the numerous difficulties which we encountered while preparing this year book. Mr. Irvine also deserves our appreciation for handling the finances of this enterprise.

LARRY KIRK

"Ozzie" participates in many activities. He has been a member of the Key Club for three years and he is presently the treasurer. During the winter months Larry excels at basketball and telling jokes. Last spring Larry took part in the first city track meet and this fall he was a member of our winning cross-country team. This past summer he was the school's representative at Camp Couchiching.

ARTHUR WHITE

Arthur's extra-curricular activities are numerous and include Rovers, soccer, hockey, Civil Defence, SMAA hockey coachings, Church ushering and he is a past Young Peoples' president. He is also interested in photography, cars, sports and a maroon '48 Plymouth coupe. After completing Grade XIII, Arthur plans to attend Teacher's College in London.

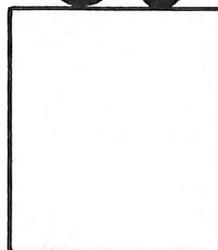

BILL RUSSELL

Bill entered Grade XIII last year, transferring from the Technical Department where he was an honour student for four years. One of his past feats is the winning of a scholarship at the Port Huron Science Fair last year. Bill has been a member of the SCITS track team and distinguished himself in the cross country race held at Northern. He is a member of the Math Club.

BRIGITTE HAKEN

Besides being a very attractive girl, Brigitte has taken part in many school activities. She has received two Oscars for her outstanding contributions as Director of the SCITS Revue, and she has been a member of the Ad Astra Staff, and the Student Council. Brigitte is going to take an arts course at Western this fall.

NORM CHAPPLE

Norm can be recognized by his turtleneck sweaters. He can be called on to play almost any sport, especially hockey on Sunday afternoon at Lake Chipican. He is the terror of any soccer opponent and is noted for being the best "goal-getter" in S.C.I.-T.S. He is a member of Divine Street Young Peoples. Right now his main ambition is to finish Grade XIII by 1961.

CARL KERN

Carl is undoubtedly the most well known boy in the school. He has moved up from vice-president to president of the Students' Council. Carl's activities are many and varied: co-captain of the football team, captain of the rifle team, member of the swimming and track teams, and past vice-president of the Key Club and also chief companion of Pat C.

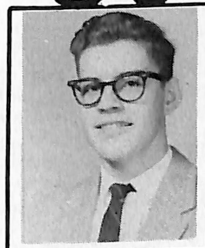

ARTHUR PERKINS

Art, alias "Fraulein Perkins" to a certain language teacher, keeps his nose to the grindstone. This year he took over the Key Club's president's gavel. In his busy schedule Art also finds time to take active part in both the Students' Council and the Boys Athletic Association. Upon completion of Grade XIII, Art hopes to take up Mathematics or Science at the University of Western Ontario.

REG METCALFE

Reg is planning on entering industry as a chemist at the end of this year if all goes well. He is interested in this type of work and his marks show it. This year he is concentrating on his studies and therefore he doesn't take part in any extra activities. Last year he was a member of the Senior Soccer Team.

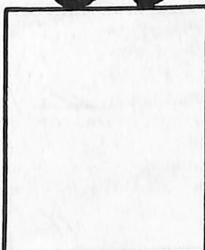

JIM HUNTER

His warm personality and sense of humour have always made Jim a great asset to his class. Jim is best noted for his outstanding musical talent as displayed in the school orchestra and the SCITS Club. He has also participated in the soccer team, Chess Club and Math Club. Next year will find Jim majoring in Chemistry at Western.

KEN BALL

Ken, the tall boy with the long curly hair, has attended all three city high schools but for the last three years has been settled at S.C.I.-T.S. by Jeanette. Although Ken's favourite pastime is hunting, he is active in all interform sports. In the summer of '57 Ken, a Rover Scout, went to the Scout Jamboree in England. Next year Ken plans to take a business course.

BOB COOPER

Bob was 2nd in command of last year's Cadet Corps, a past president of Hi-Y and a member of the Key Club in '56 and a member of the '57 and '59 football teams. He lists his main interest as GIRLS. Upon completion of Grade XIII, Bob plans to enter an Honours Economics Course at Western.

Mr. Rome: Now remember class, nothing is impossible.

Arn. McLellan: Did you ever try to ski through a revolving door?

JACK BELL

EDITH OLSON

Edith Olson is the type of girl who will always be remembered wherever she goes, whether it is for her frequent blushing, her friendly and understanding smile, or her ability to talk and laugh — helping others to forget their troubles. During her High School years, she has taken an active part in athletics. Next year will find her in nurses' training. All the best, Ede.

JOHN HARRIS

Throughout high school John has been a member of the SCITS Club, Chess Club, Teen Town Council and Hi-Y. Besides this, he has taken part in Cadets and the school football team. John is interested in literature, jazz, travel and girls. He plans to attend the University of Western Ontario to study English and Philosophy. John says, "I would like to be a novelist of significance (make lots of money)."

GARY WALDECK

Gary will be remembered as the silent backbone of the class. Although quiet, Gary has participated in many organizations such as the Boys' Athletic Association and the Schoolboy Curling Team. His interest in electronics is displayed by his ardent participation in the Cadet Signal Corps in past years. In the near future Gary wishes either to attend University of Western Ontario or to take an Electronics course at the Windsor Institute of Technology.

MARION BANTING

Marion, who always has a smile and a cheerful word for everyone, is active in interform sports. On the weekends, she can be found either skating, at the show, hockey (football) game or dancing with Pete. Next year, Marion's ambition is to attend Teachers' College in London. We wish her the best of luck and know that with her pleasing personality, she will succeed.

LORRAINE CARTER

Lorraine, when not busy trying to translate those long letters from Germany, can be heard giggling madly as she tries to cram books into her locker. Last year Lorraine was kicking high in the SCITS Review and playing interform sports. She has four honour certificates so far and is one of the girls in the Chemistry Club. Next year she plans to take an Honours Chemistry Course at Queen's.

PAT CLAWSON

Pat, well-known around the school for her interest in sports, has acquired another interest — Carl Kern. Last summer Pat was runner-up to the Ladies' Senior Club Championship in golf, and this year, in addition to being president of the G.A.A., she is a professional figure skater. Pat plans to attend the Teachers' College in London next year. Lots of luck, Pat.

ROBERT ANDERSON

Bob, the quiet man of 13A is fondly known as "Sweetwater" in Mr. Newell's gym classes. As a country student Bob's extra-curricular activities are somewhat limited but on the ball field he has proved his worth many a time. His pet peeve is physics and you can usually find him any morning before class in the gallery trying to find out how to do last night's homework. Bob plans to take the Veterinary Medicine course at Michigan State when he completes Grade 13 here.

BOB "Peachy" PURVES

Bob has taken an active part in school life, being president of the Bowling League in Grade XI, and president of the Boys' Athletic Association in Grade XII, and playing most of the interform sports. His pastime is driving out to Tab's and trying to erase girl's names from his books. He will always be remembered at S.C.I.-T.S. as Mr. Newell's official score keeper. Next year, Peachy plans to return to S.C.I.-T.S. to complete Grade XIII.

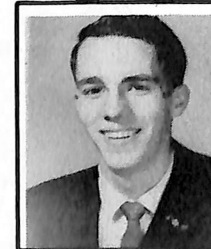

MARGARET MacDONALD

Margaret's interest in science is shown by her activity in the Science Club, and by her desire to major in science at university. She eventually wishes to become a teacher. Reading is her main hobby, though on Thursday mornings she can be found splashing around in the swimming pool. Margaret won an Honour Certificate from Grade 12 and a scholarship in Grade 10. Her stylish wardrobe is envied by many girls.

ELMA SUNAITIS

This is the girl with the red hair and purple lipstick who attends most of Northern's dances. Elma is a member of the Chemistry Club, and has been active all through school in Red Cross Swimming and interform sports. She has four Honour Certificates, and last year was S.C.I.-T.S. representative to the Queens' Club of the London Free Press. Next year, Elma hopes to enter an Honour Physics and Chemistry course at the University of Western Ontario.

TOM JAMES

Throughout his high school years he has been a member of the bowling team and has been successful in winning a trophy for his efforts. Tom's main interests are stamp collecting and driving to Point Edward to see Joan. Following graduation Tom plans to enroll in a Chartered Accountant course.

13-B Mr. Brown

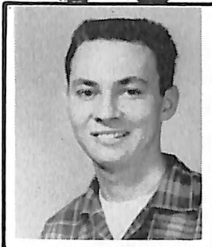

KEN ST. JOHN

ANNE MORGAN

Anne Morgan of 13-B is one of our best girls in all types of sports: volleyball, basketball, swimming, and aiming her little black car at pedestrians. This year she distinguished herself by correcting an article in Maclean's, much to the amazement of her classmates and Maclean's editor. Anne plans to develop her literary talent even further by taking a journalism course at Ryerson.

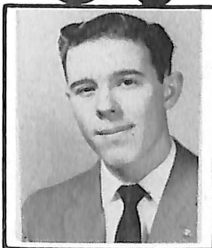

LARRY (Roadrunner) JOHNSON

Larry is well known for his last minute arrivals. He participates in many school activities including the rifle team, school paper and was captain of last year's bowling team. Larry is interested in golf and may be found on the Sarnia Golf Course in his spare time. He hopes to attend Western University on completion of High School. Good Luck, Larry.

PEGGY BROWN

Peggy belongs to the society of "Bus Riders" which rather curbs her extra-curricular activities. Still she has time to sound a merry clarinet in the school orchestra and be active in the church choir and Hi C group at Courtright United. Her classmates will remember Peg's excellent marks, witticisms and quiet way of doing things. She hopes we'll see her majoring in modern languages at Western next year.

RON DAVIDSON

Ron is a quiet fellow until he gets behind his horn. He plays his trumpet in the school band, the Citizens' Band, the Devine Street Church Orchestra, and at Kiwanis and other club meetings. Ron hopes to become a high school history teacher. The class will remember him for his cheery disposition, his trumpeting, and his resounding portrayal of the ghost in Hamlet.

ANDREA FOSTER

One of 13-B's half day students, Andrea spends her afternoons as a dental assistant in Dr. Anderson's office. Having received honours in Grades 9, 10 and 11, she has been active in all interform sports and was on Publicity for the SCITS Club '58-'59. Andrea's interests include the Church choir, Sunday School teaching, Sorority and a certain sailor. Next year will see Andrea in a nursing course.

JILL KENNEDY

Jill is continually praising Corunna and Elvis Presley, and her hobbies are dancing and singing. She loves eating and always is searching for new "pizza-places" with Theo. Jill has been a member of the Students' Council and has taken part in interform sports. She is planning to attend SCITS next year and will then do something dramatic.

BONNIE COWX

Bonnie has always been very interested in sports and has taken part in all girls' athletic activities as well as CGIT and helping with Sunday School. Her plans for next year are still a big question mark in her mind, but her sunny disposition should make her a success in whatever field she chooses.

DIANE PARSONS

Diane, better known to her buddies as "Red", is an asset to all classes. She has a warm and friendly attitude toward all her friends and her comments such as, "Togetherness", provoke laughter from any group. Diane is an ardent participator in the publishing of the Ad Astra and takes enthusiastic interest in all interform sports. Upon graduation, Diane plans to attend London Teachers' College. Good-Luck Di!

BOB WIDDUP

Even though Bob spent a year at Central, he has been a real asset to this school since his return. For the past two seasons, he has been captain of the basketball team. Bob has also been form representative of the Students' Council and chairman of the games committee for school dances. He is noted for reading Cosmo's magazines in the back booth after school. Next year he hopes to enter Business Administration at Western. Lots of luck, Bob.

ANNE BABBAGE

Anne, a friendly little lass who hails from England, has been a welcome addition to S.C.I.-T.S. since her arrival here. In school, she has been an active member of the orchestra and the Stamp Club. Her extra-curricular activities include her position as past president of her young peoples' group and leadership work in the CGIT group. Currently she is a Sunday School teacher and a member of the choir. Anne eventually hopes to be a French teacher.

Mr. Brown: Translate "Rex fugit?"

John Mowry: The king flees.

Mr. Brown: Tut, tut, can't you see it's perfect? Put in "has".

John: The king has flees.

KATHY NISBET

Throughout her High School years, Kathy has participated in swimming, basketball and volleyball. She has been a member of the Dancing Club and is now an asset to the SCITS Club. She is also a Guide leader and Sunday School teacher and sings in the Church Choir. After graduation, Kathy plans to attend Teachers' College, specializing in Kindergarten. Kathy will be remembered for her friendliness, short skirts and that once a week trip to the hairdresser.

JACQUELYN MacRAE

A pleasing personality and sense of humour are Jacquelyn's main assets. Teachers look up to her as a model student (she's 6' 1"). An honour student, Jackie acts as a librarian and Sunday-school teacher in her home town of Corunna. Last year, she won the IOOF Public Speaking Contest and the two-week trip to the UN in New York. Jackie's ambition is to become a public school teacher.

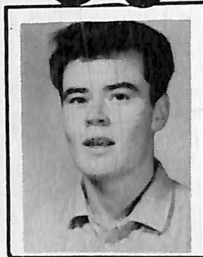

CAROLINE THOMPSON

Caroline is planning to return to London on completion of this school year to enter a two year course at Teachers' College. During her four years at SCITS she has become well known for her interest in sports and her eagerness to help with the problems of others. If someone is seen coming down the hall, hidden behind the latest "Best Seller", I'm sure you'll find our girl Caroline deeply absorbed in the contents.

AUDREY FRASER

Audrey, better known to her friends as "Aud", can usually be found engaging in almost all the girls' extra-curricular sports activities and has been a member of the girls' basketball team for 5 years and the G.A.A. for 3. Audrey will be remembered for the comments which tend to add a little humour to all our classes. Following graduation she plans to attend either Western or London Teachers' College.

JOHN LITTLE

John is one of those fellows who likes to get the most out of school. He started with two years in General, graduated from two years Technical and is now spending two years to get 13. When he is not busy trying to figure out his rather complicated timetable, John indulges in basketball, rifle team, dancing, bowling, football and is thought to have originated the saying, "Hold that line, please?"

DONNA POLLARD

Donna's warm and friendly smile has won her scores of friends and made her an asset in any group. Although Donna is very busy obtaining her ten credits, she finds time to play in the school orchestra and is on the "make-up" staff for this year's SCITS Revue. Donna's plans for the future are yet undecided, but they will likely include a certain prospective army officer named Jim.

MURRAY McKEAN

During his stay at S.C.I.-T.S. Murray has been a member of the yearbook staff and has played senior basketball. He is also a member of St. Paul's Usher's Club and has coached a minor bantam basketball team in the 'Y' league. Next year he plans to enter Port Huron Junior College in the Business Administration course.

NANCY NEEDHAM

Nancy has been a member of the Students' Council, the Ad Astra, SCITS Club, Chess Club, Chairman of the Publicity Committee, Orchestra, and teaches swimming. In Grade 12 she received the Citizenship award, and was SCITS representative to Queens Club. Nancy has maintained an honour standing and is definitely remembered for her exuberant personality, and ability to charm her many friends including most of the teachers. Nancy is going to Wellesley this fall.

LAUREL STRUTHERS

Laurel is one of 13-B's more academic students. Her quiet and friendly manner has won Laurel the admiration of her teachers and fellow classmates. Laurel had been active with CGIT at St. Paul's until her graduation last year and she is now the proud owner of a leadership certificate. Next year she would like to begin her nurses' training and we all wish her success.

RUTH ANN CHOWEN

Ruth Ann is kept from participating in many school activities since she rides a bus, but she is a faithful member of her church choir and Hi-C group. She is 13-B's one-man welcoming committee with her cheery "Good-morning". We will all remember Ruth Ann for her charming personality and friendliness to everyone. Next year we hope to see her at Western, majoring in history.

GARY McNEILL

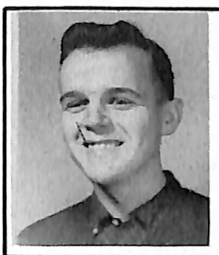

Gary's extra-curricular activities have included W.O.S.S.A. Soccer 56-57-58, football 59, track 58-59, cross-country race 59, Glee Club 59-60. An ex-student of Central, Gary won 3 Athletic Gold bars, and a grey academic bar there. He lists his main interest and pastime as WOMEN. Gary's main ambition is to get out of Grade XIII and then?

LENA WOLFE

Mr. Dennis: What did Archimedes discover when he was taking a bath?
John Loomis: Dirt.

Mr. Little (little): (Pulling down a map of the United States).
Begarnie: What is it?
Mr. Little: A Grandma Moscs Christmas card.

BOB MARSHALL

Bob is noted for his unique timetable, his horn-rimmed glasses and his so-called jokes which aren't too funny but we laugh anyway. Bob spends most of his time trying to become his own uncle. Next year will see Bob invading the social life of Port Huron as he enrolls at Junior College. Good luck Bob, you will need it.

DAVE WIEGAND

In Dave we see another Newton. His laboratory may be found in the downtown business section, where he is experimenting on action and reaction between the cue ball and the eight ball. Dave works in a shoe store where he makes observations on the female ankle. Beware, to the Women in the Air Force for Dave is planning on the Air Force as a career.

12-A Miss Howden

BOB COCARELL

During his school years, Bob has taken an active part in activities both at school and at the "Y". This year he is a member of the "Y" Teachers Corps and treasurer of Teen Town. Bob plans to get his Grade 13 certificate, and then go on to further his education. Bob is noted for arriving about three minutes before the bell, just after Miss Howden has marked him absent on the attendance sheet.

ED PETRONSKI

Ed has been an active member in school activities since Grade 9. During his first two years at S.C.I.-T.S. he was a member of the Students' Council, receiving proficiency badges both years. Last year, Ed was an officer in the Cadet inspection. Sports are probably Ed's most outstanding interest, and he has played both W.O.S.S.A. basketball and football for the last two years. We all think Ed is a great guy.

JOHN "WOODY" WOODROW

John is known to have a split personality. He is the Maverick of the noon hour poker games, and a Sergeant Bilko of the cadet corps. His interests lie in the football team, track events, hunting, weight lifting, electronics, stamp collecting and billiards. After Grade XIII he plans to take R.O.T.P. through the army to go to University to be an Electronics Engineer.

PETER C. GRACE

Peter was a member of the Ad Astra staff in 1955-56. His spare time is taken up with roller skating, boating and photography. He can usually be found talking to Miss Wilson in the school library or driving around in his 1946 Ford coupe. Next year Peter hopes to attend J.C. where he will take a two year pre-law course leading to corporation law at Harvard.

PAT ARNOLD

Two honour certificates prove her scholastic ability. Pat holds the important position of layout editor for this year's Ad Astra, and knowing Pat, anything she undertakes will be well done. Participation in interform sports, Rifle Club, Referees Club, music and working at Kresge's takes up most of her spare time. Her future plans include Grade XIII, then Western University and a course in modern languages.

TERRY LYNN BLACK

Terry has greatly supplemented both our sports and musical programs. Besides being one of our better referees, she has been on school teams three consecutive years. Mr. Gilbert will certainly miss her "faithful flute" in the school orchestra and the Citizens' Band. Her favourite saying is "No, I can't go Thursday, that's band". After Grade XIII, she will join the ranks of the nursing profession.

ANN ALLEN

Ann, an import from Central, has proved in her three years here that she is a good athlete. In 1957-8, Ann was a member of the inter-school basketball and volleyball teams. At present, she is a member of the rifle club, bowling team, and also takes an active part in interform sports. Her plans for next year are to return to S.C.I.-T.S. for Grade XIII.

BOB KIDD

Bob is well known as one of the big guns on the basketball squad. "Bo-bo" as he is known to almost everyone, also plays football and golf. Although he keeps his golf score pretty much a secret, he did say one day that he had shot a 79, — for 9 holes of course. When not playing sports Bob can be found driving about town in his father's '55 Ford, listening to the radio he bought for $5.00. His favourite saying is, "How are the piano lessons coming along?"

A certain husband and wife were having a very violent argument. In the course of their disagreement, she knocked him right out of the second-storey window, the blow landing him in the waste basket in the yard. Their Chinese servant, upon observing the bewildered husband, said "American lady velly extlavagant - - - he good for five years yet".

PETER SMITH

Besides being on the school's soccer and swimming teams, Pete is an active member of the school band. His favourite subject is his spare periods, in which he catches up on last month's homework. Peter plans to complete Grade 13, but after that he is undecided about his future.

SANDRA G. STEEL

Sandra is an honour student in her class work. Sandy still finds time to be in the gym. Last year she was chosen to go to the Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp. Although captain of a bowling team, her bowling days are limited by her membership on the school team. THE SARNIA GENERAL HOSPITAL

School of Nursing

Offers an approved course to high school graduates seventeen years of age or over. The minimum entrance requirement is the Secondary School Graduation Diploma with three options, one of which is science, but preference will be given to students who have more than the minimum requirement when factors such as interest and aptitude seem equal.

It is an advantage for students to complete Grade 13 before entering Nursing School. Students registering in Grade 13 should take English, Chemistry, Biology, a language, and one other option.

G. A. A. PRESIDENT'S REMARKS

During the 1959-60 school year the organization of the athletic program of the student body is our main purpose. The weekly meetings of the executive result in arranging the schedule for inform sports which include decktennis, volleyball, basketball, badminton, referees' club and gym club. We support the Red Cross and Royal Life-saving swimming tests and the St. John's Ambulance First Aid Course with the accompanying test. Although most of the girls support their teams, there are a few exceptions which cause defaulted games.

The Girls' Athletic Association purchases some of the minor equipment and next year hopes to be able to buy new cheerleaders' outfits. We also arrange for the transportation of our school volleyball and basketball teams to other schools.

The new award system for the school will make charges in our constitution. Previously we have given crests to winning teams and the second and first "S" for seventy percent participation in sports for three and four years respectively. This year the school will award the top awards which are the first and second "S".

The members of the G.A.A. sincerely hope that the girls enjoyed and have benefitted from their inter-mural and inter-school sports program for this year.

MY EVALUATION OF CAMP

My two weeks at the Ontario Athletic Leadership Camp will always hold a memorable position in my mind because it gave me the chance to use the leadership ability I have. The biggest step in this direction was taking charge of a discussion group. I also taught the lay-up shot in basketball and the smash in badminton.

Here at camp I gained more self-confidence and displayed more initiative. Because of the opportunities given to volunteer, many chances for me to improve have arisen. I think I can now lead a program or discussion without being as nervous as I was before. I also discovered that there are many different methods used in teaching a lesson. Besides these two things, I believe I have improved my ability to get along with people.

This chiefly is due to coming to a camp of 130 people without knowing anyone and trying to get along with them for two weeks.

From our discussion on the G.A.A. I learned many things that will benefit me when I return. The coaching and teaching experience at camp will help me to take some of the responsibility from my teacher in the inter-mural sports program. The new dances, the pointers in basketball and badminton, and other skills I learned, I hope to pass on to other students in my school. At O. A. L. C. because I have developed my ability to make friends and my leadership qualities, I will long remember my stay.

THE GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

This year a new system of G. A. A. membership was installed. Instead of having form representatives and an executive chosen from them, twelve girls were selected to head the G. A. A. activities. The intermediate and senior girls were allowed to nominate the girls they felt would be most suitable for the work and then an election was held. Two girls were chosen from grade X and the remaining ten girls from grades XI, XII and XIII.

Elected for the presidency by the student body was Pat Clawson of 13-A. Vice-president was Audrey Fraser 13-B, secretary Elizabeth Cooper 12-B and treasurer Anne Allen 11-B.

The curators were responsible for planning, instructing and supervising the activities of the G. A. A. and the girls of the school wish to extend their appreciation for a job well done.

The sports curators were: badminton and deck tennis, Pat Clawson, and Barb Jordan; basketball, Jeanette Kilbreath and Audrey Fraser; volleyball, Anne Allen and Elizabeth Cooper; gym club and trampoline, Susan Ewener and Barb Eady; swimming, Sandra Geary; social committee, Dianne McLeod; and publicity, Sandra Steel. CASE HISTORY

Child's name: Pham Van Van
Birth date: March 24, 1951
Nationality: Vietnamese

Van lives with his mother, a brother, Bay (5), and a sister, Lan (2), as well as his maternal grandmother in the city of Saigon. The family has always led a miserable existence, and shortly before Lan was born, their situation became even more critical. The father, depressed by their poverty, became completely irresponsible and abandoned the family altogether.

The child's mother does the best she can to earn their livelihood by selling potatoes or fruit although she sometimes helps the neighbors with their cooking or carries water for them. In spite of back-breaking work, her earnings never exceed 13 cents to 20 cents a day which, obviously, is grossly inadequate for even the basic necessities of five people, and they are often hungry. The aged grandmother, who is dependent on her daughter for support, occasionally spends a few days with another married daughter who lives elsewhere in the province but she, too, is poor and cannot help Van's family financially. Nor can aid be expected from the boy's married sister, Chi (21) as her husband's earnings allow them little more than a hand-to-mouth existence. It is no wonder that Mrs. Pham worries about repaying $13.80 which she has borrowed from the neighbors to meet living expenses; under the circumstances, this represents a considerable sum. Thus, with no relatives in a position to be of assistance, the plight of Van's family is desperate. They live in a crude shelter which is built over the water and measures 6 feet by 12 feet. The roof is covered with palm leaves and pieces of iron, but it leaks badly so that, whenever it rains, water pours into the dwelling. They have no furniture and all sleep on a mat on the floor.

In this wretched atmosphere lives Van, a rather serious, well-mannered little boy with expressive black eyes. It goes without saying that he, and the other members of his family as well, would benefit a great deal from plentiful, wholesome food. He attends the second grade of primary school and after class often takes care of Bay and his little sister. As might be expected of a lad of his age, Van says he would eventually like to earn his living by driving a car. In extending a helping hand to this youngster, you will assure him of a monthly grant of $8, periodic distribution of food and clothing parcels, and any necessary medical care. Of equal importance to the hard-pressed mother is the heartwarming knowledge that someone cares and wants to help. Your interest and kind assistance will bring hope and encouragement into this poor home and afford Van the opportunity of looking toward a brighter, more se-

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

The Students' Council is composed of the Executive:

President: Carl Kern
 Vice President: Diane McLeod
 Secretary: Jackie Prudence

and a representative from each form and each organization in the school, and two staff advisers, Mr. Pate and Mr. B. K. Little.

The Students' Council is responsible for the organization and running of school dances. Various chairmen head committees and either work at the dances or aid chairmen in the forms who are sponsoring the dance. The At-Home which follows the annual Commencement exercises is usually the work of the Students' Council. The decorations, punch, orchestra and cleaning up are arranged for by Council members.

Two awards of fifty dollars each are awarded to the boy and girl in grades 12 or 13 who show the best qualities of becoming a citizen. Ten dollar awards are presented to the students in each department, who obtain the highest marks in grades 9 and 10.

A special project, this year, was the selling of name tags to aid the Library Fund. This was a very worthwhile project, since many of the students will benefit by the new and better facilities that will be a result of this fund. A bet was made between T-12-B and 12-B concerning who would sell the most tags. T-12-B won and 12-B lost 50 cents.

This year the Students' Council held a Dutch Auction for their own benefit, and were put in charge of "Ad Astra" sales.

PIONEER CLUB

"To know Christ and to make Him known" is the purpose of the Inter-School Christian Fellowship. "To know Christ" is the Power of God unto Salvation. "To make Him known", the I. S. C. F. group of S. C. I. & T. S. holds a regular meeting every Friday at 12:30, in room 204.

The annual programme is designed to provide a series of meetings that will help the student get something from God's Word each week, and grow in the knowledge of Jesus Christ. The meetings during the past year have consisted of a variation of Bible studies, panel discussions, quizzes, speakers, and plays.

During free-from-school hours, Christian fellowship is enjoyed in the form of socials which are held by the executive of the group of one school or by the executive of the three Sarnia High Schools to which the surrounding district is usually invited. Also through the school year many week-end camps are held in the encircling district. During the summer there are several camps throughout Canada for those of the I. S. C. F. who wish to attend. There is also a Leadership Training Camp held for the members of the executive for the following year. Here the students who will be filling the offices receive training and instruction for a profitable Club in the coming year.

BAND

Three or four years ago, S.C.I. & T.S. didn't have too much in the way of a band. At present, however, the school can look with pride towards its band. Credit for this tremendous improvement in performance would have to go to the band members themselves and to Mr. Gilbert, our very conscientious and capable bandmaster who gets the utmost in performance from the material he has to work with.

Besides playing a few selections every morning in Assembly, the Band is ready and willing to help out on various occasions. Again this year, it performed at all the football games, the SCITS Revue, and at Commencement. Moreover, the band and Glee Club combined to present a Musicales and both performed in a creditable fashion. The Band's Ron Davidson, one of the finest trumpeters in Sarnia, added two solos to the program. The Band is entering the May Festival in competition with the other high schools in the city and hopes to come out on top.

Next year, there will be a music room added to S.C.I. & T.S. so that there will be better facilities for teaching instrumental music. Also, it is hoped that instrumental music will be continued into Grade XI for the first time. Consequently, better things should be in store for the future with regard to the band and music at S.C.I. & T.S.

SCITS CLUB

Back Row: Mr. Davis, Michel Hartwell, Brigitte Haken, Sandra Charyk.

SCITS CLUB

The SCITS Club this year surely carried out their purpose. They did, as the Sarnia Observer stated, create "the best Revue yet."

The theme this year was "Canada" with scenes from east to west. The show was directed by Mr. Davis and Brigitte Haken, both of whom worked especially hard, because it was their last SCITS Revue.

The oscars were presented to Jeannette Kilbreath as "Best Actress", John Harris as "Best actor", Michele Heartwell for "Girl who did most behind the scenes and Arn McLellan for "Boy who did most behind the scenes. Ed Petronski, Lee Watson, and Sandra Charyk were given prizes for outstanding work in the show. Jim Hunter was presented with some record albums because he already had too many oscars. On behalf of the SCITS Club Brigitte was given a present and Mr. Davis received a watch.

Everyone did his best and I am sure that all who took part in and all who saw this year's show and "Criticisms" will be looking forward to next year's SCITS Revue.

This year, out of the money made, the SCITS Club presented a check to help in the Library Fund.

THE ECCLESIA

This is a new organization in the school this year founded by Mr. Stevens. Since its main purpose is to foster a discussion of affairs affecting society it received its name "The Ecclesia", which was the name given to the first Athenian Assembly who discussed problems of the time.

The Ecclesia meets every Wednesday and the programs may consist of a panel discussion, a debate, a guest speaker, or may be any other form of program concerning world problems. The Ecclesia is not only concerned with world affairs but also local matters.

The presiding officer, called the Epistates, which was the name given to the leader of the Athenian Assembly, this year is Tom McCord. His assistant, Ann Babbage, is called the proedros, a Greek name (in origin) meaning a leader of the Assembly.

This club is open to all students who have an interest in world affairs and are interested in taking part in discussions.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club led by Mr. Schieck and Mr. Scott meets every Tuesday noon and Thursday after school. Its main purpose is to simply play chess. Each member has a purpose of his own, which is to become the champion of the club. They do this by challenging each other.

This year the club has about 20 enthusiastic members who can often be seen playing chess in the halls long after school has finished for the day.

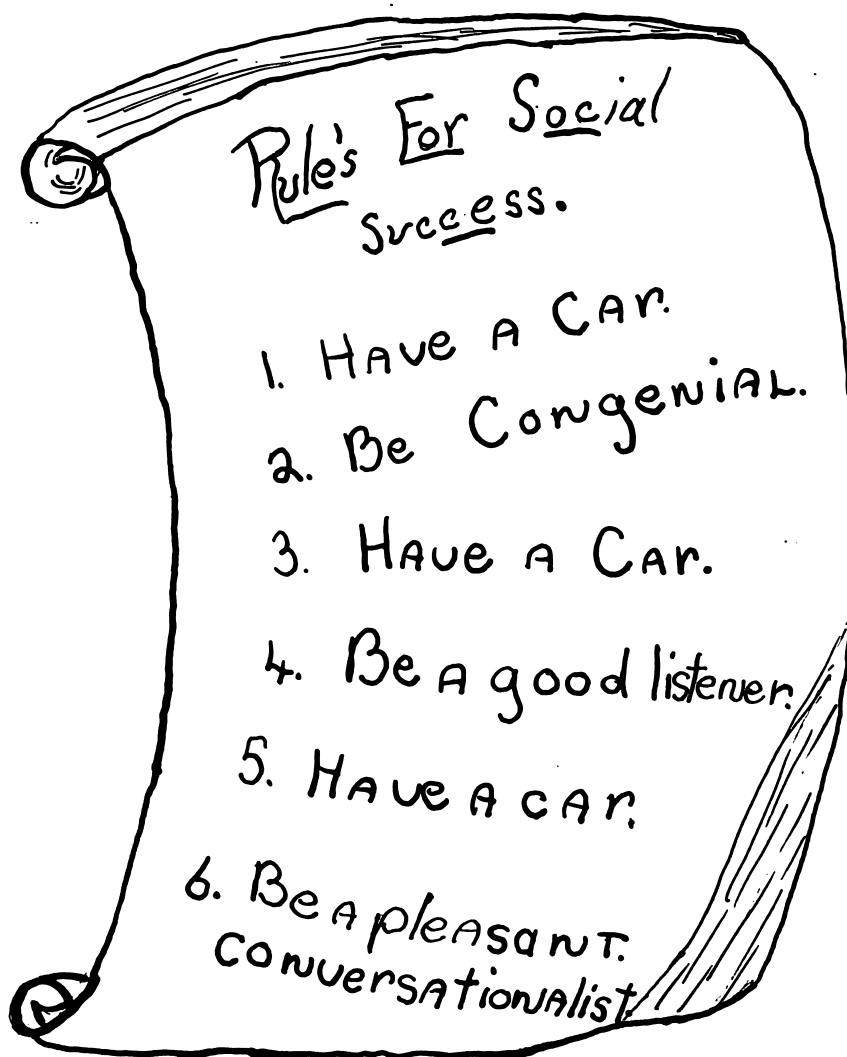

GLEE CLUB REPORT

This year, 1959-60, was a very successful one for the Glee Club. Composed of approximately 60 members from both Central and S.C.I. & T.S., the club holds its rehearsals every Monday evening from 7:00-8:00 P.M. under the direction of Mr. Sperling, who is assisted by two pianists, Lesley Sadler and Beverly Walters, both of S.C.I. & T.S.

On January 30 the Glee Club combined with the S.C.I. & T.S. Band for their annual Musicales, which contained vocal solos, piano solos, instrumental solos, numbers by the Band, the Glee Club, and a Grade 9 chorus.

Part of the proceeds of this entertainment was set aside for the purchase of uniforms for S.C.I. & T.S. Band. Then they practiced for the Blue-water Vocal Festival, which was held on April 5, in Port Huron. There they united with other students to form a combined chorus of 950, and presented a very successful concert, which ended their programme for the year.

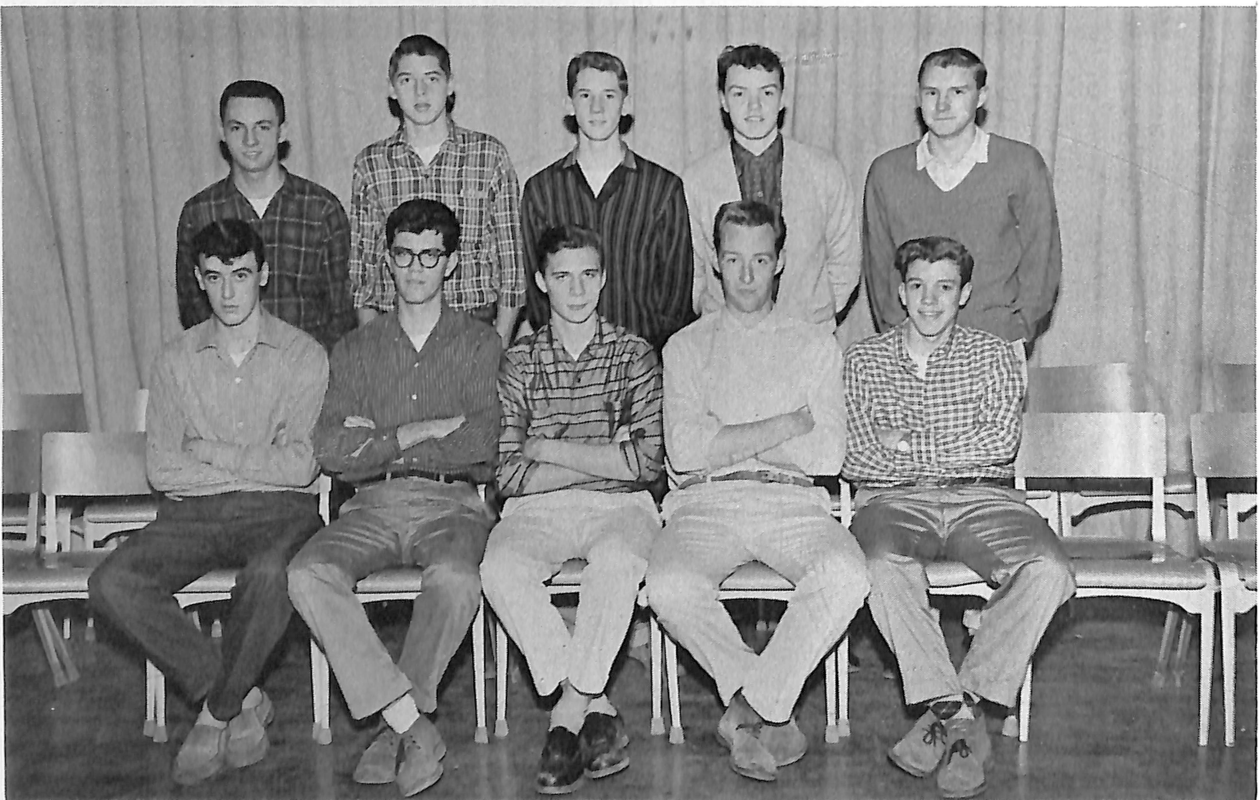

(P.S. - Numbers 2, 4, and 6 can be omitted if the car is a red convertible.)

THE BOWLING CLUB

Executive: President Bob Muir
Treasurer Liz Brain

The Students who enjoy bowling, do so every Thursday after school at Graham's Bowling Alley. They are divided into ten teams, the captains of which are:

Jean Arnold
Don Arnold
Eileen Trowbridge
Judy Weilding
Liz Brain
John Mowry
Dave Willis
Tom James
Heather Kirby

Each year there is an inter-school competition for the El-Mur Trophy. Two teams from each school enter, a girls' team and a boys' team. Each is composed of six bowlers with the highest averages. Northern now holds the trophy.

Another important event in the bowling year is the TEACHER - STUDENT Competition.

This was only begun last year when the teachers won, but this year the students or the Stunned, as they were called showed the teachers or the Educated, who actually are the best bowlers. Since the winners are allowed to make the rules for the following year the students have made one new rule that "all fouls must be counted next year." The teams were as follows:

STUNNED	EDUCATED
Bob Muir	Mr. Stevens
Ted Kirk	Mr. Rome
Dave Willis	Mr. Forsythe
Dennis Sullivan	Mr. Scott
Louis Dawes	Mr. Galpin
Howard Lanning	Mr. B. K. Little

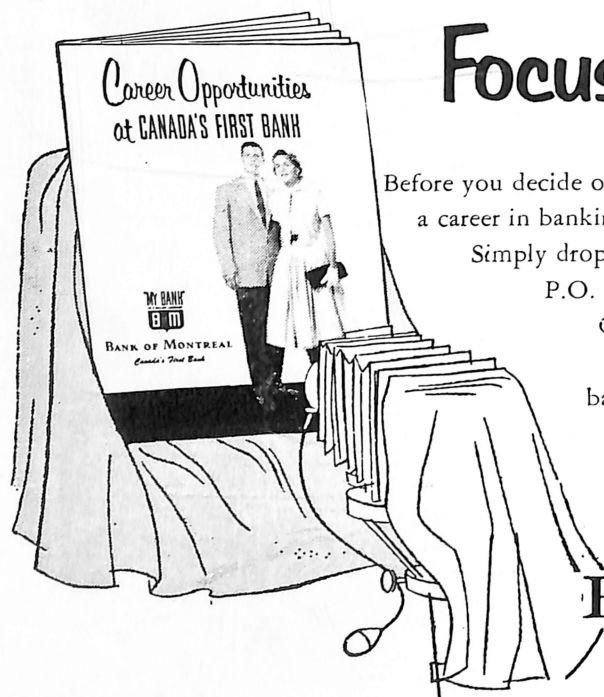

Although the students definitely won, the teachers will not admit that they lost, and they are now crying on their Crying Towels because next year the names of the teams will be reversed.

 And so was I.

The world is old, yet it likes to laugh,
 New jokes are hard to find,

 Don't frown and give the thing a poke,
 Just laugh — don't be too wise.

A DAY IN 11-A

One day, a stranger came to SCITS,
He walked down 3rd floor hall.
Into 303 he went
And said, "Hello, You-all;
I'm going to spend a day with you,
I'm from the Moscow Press.
We've been receiving warnings
Of ed-u-ca-tion-al distress,
And so I shall observe this class . . .
Then report my findings to the mass!"

He watched 11A do math,
A sad sight to his eye.
He said, "Why we're on xy
And they can't multiply."
He heard them sing "O Tannenbaum"
He thought this was a warning
About a new-type bomb!
His kindly face grew very sad
He thought 11A was mad!

He watched the girls play basketball
As do the Russian team;
He saw them slide and slip and fall
And heard the teachers scream.
"Our rivals they will never be
Though their playing is fantastic now . . .
For I shall tell the Russian girls
Just what to do and how!"
And then he ran right out the door,
He said, "This game I now abhor."

He followed them to Physics class
His face lit up with glee . . .
Experiments gave beyond a doubt
Proof of stupidity.
Pop Dennis did his very best
And tried to make things clear
He cried when they disproved his facts
His subject to him was dear.
Then luncheon came — he saw them run
For chocolate milk and hamburg bun.

After lunch he saw them act . . .
The play was Shakespear's best
But the actors were so oddly cast . . .
"I'm Shocked" he then confessed
After that came Latin scraps
In Mr. Brown's small room
And when he heard their Latin
The stranger had to swoon!
Great Romans they will ever be
If they can talk like this" said he.

Then on to History went the throng,
The stranger was surprised
To see the teacher rule supreme
Pull wool o'er student's eyes;
Who told them stories of great men
That lived long long ago . . .
And called their brave deeds rackets;
The stranger said "Oh-ho!
So this was how their government
Is run, and ran" and will be rent!"

After French the bell did ring,
11A took flight,
They ran up to their homeroom,
The stranger thought, "I'm right!
They're nothing but young savages
Products of this liberty,
I'm glad that I am civilized
Though I live in tyranny!"
And with this pretty parting speech,
The stranger went his way.
"Just the same, I'm glad I spent
A DAY IN 11A."

THE STRANGERS

"Don't go, or disaster will enter your life. Two marines shall finish your life with one swift blow. They will follow 'til you're alone and then . . . goodbye. I'm warning you; don't go! don't go! don't go!" The voice faded away and Joan awoke with a start, seeming to see the ancient head of a bearded man disappear against her wall.

She went to the mirror and looked at herself for a few minutes and then whispered to the image staring back at her. "Joan old girl, you're letting your imagination get the better of you. Stop acting so silly. It's 5:40 and you have to catch the 7:10 train to Chicago."

She turned to the wall where the image had disappeared and laughingly joked, "As for you, Mr. Bearded Joker, I don't believe in nightmares."

After that incident, she hurriedly packed and got ready to leave and as she was about to go out of the house, the phone rang. Her subconscious was a bit hesitant about letting her answer the phone and as she slowly put it to her ear, she heard - - - "Hello! . . . Hello! . . . Joan is that you?" Then laughing to herself, she replied, "Oh, hello, Karen."

"Well, thanks! What do you . . . Oh! . . . Hello? I just phoned to say goodbye."

"I didn't mean it that way." Joan stared at the wall and said, "I guess I was expecting the impossible."

"What's wrong?"

"Oh nothing! I had the queerest dream last night. I guess I should say nightmare." Joan told what had happened. "It isn't that I believe it. It's just the way those eyes stared at me."

"I wouldn't take it so lightly. I had an aunt once who had a dream that she would die within a week, and sure enough, she was killed in a car accident two days later. Makes you wonder doesn't it? If I were you, I'd take along a couple of policeman or just stay home."

Joan didn't like her talking that way, but she didn't want to seem rude. "There's my taxi, Karen, I had better be leaving, so I'll see you when I return; so long."

"So long, Joan. See you, I hope."

Joan hung up the phone and left the apartment as swiftly as she possibly could and went out into the air. Laughing everything aside, she left for the station.

When she went up to the ticket booth, Bill, the station clerk, asked her why she was so shaky, and looked at her queerly.

She replied, "Oh, nothing. I guess I just had a bad dream last night which seems to be haunting me. 'I had a dream last week about my dog. You remember my dog, Sally. Well, I had a dream that she would be hit by a truck and killed. And sure enough . . . Hey! Where are you going, Miss Cambridge? Joan!'"

Joan walked off in a rush and boarded the train, leaving the flabbergasted attendant gaping after her.

As the surprised Bill stood staring at Joan, two marines walked up to him and the taller of the two asked, "Did a Miss Joan Cambridge buy a ticket here?"

"Why, yes. Just a few moments ago she bought a ticket for Chicago. She took compartment 313 on train 17. Are you friends of Joan's?" asked Bill, nodding his head towards the other marine.

"Yeah. Real good friends. We want compartment 314 if we can possibly get it."

Would you please ask Joan to drop me a line from Chicago? Just tell her Bill asked."

"I don't think she'll be able to," said the marine darkly as they left to board the train.

They walked down the corridor with grim looks on their faces and stopped in front of Joan's compartment. Reaching into their pockets, they knocked on the door.

Joan, thinking it was the porter, opened the door. Seeing the marine uniform, she screamed, slammed the door and locked it. She backed away from the door with her hands clasped over her mouth and her eyes wide with fear, as the pounding on the door increased.

The banging suddenly stopped, and as she listened the footsteps faded away. She was afraid, but she didn't know why, because it was so silly. She sat down on the chair staring at the door. After recovering, she called the porter.

"Yes'm m'am. Kin ah's help yuh?" he said in a jolly manner. "Anytime yuh wants anythin' jes' call fer me."

Joan asked him if he had seen anything of two marines and in his comical dialect, he replied that they had occupied compartment 314.

Joan gasped and asked, "Will you please bring me a cup of coffee and two aspirins?"

"Yes'm," he replied as he trotted down the hall.

Joan returned to her room and picked up a book, after carefully checking the bolt on the door. As she looked at the title of the book, her heart leaped and got caught in her throat. The words, "Dreams Come True," stared back at her. Throwing the book down, she rushed out of the door and along the hall, anywhere to get away from her room.

Suddenly, she stopped between the cars to breathe, and as she looked out of the door, she noticed, for the first time, a raging storm pounding against the train, but this was the least of her worries.

After calming down a little, she turned to go back to her room. Her fears returned as she saw the two men come out of their room and turn towards her.

"No! No! It can't be true." She turned and ran through the next car and the one that followed, trying to evade them, but whenever she turned they were still following her.

Then she realized what she had done. She was in the last compartment of the train and could go no further.

Being hysterical, she hit the back wall and with fear holding her voice, she couldn't scream as she wanted to.

"This is it," said a voice.

Screaming, her hand instinctively pulled the emergency brake and then she blacked out.

A few hours later, Joan came to, and a man was standing over her with a kind smile on his face.

"What happened?" asked Joan as she looked about.

"Young lady, this whole train owes you their lives. If you hadn't pulled that brake, in a matter of seconds everyone may have been killed. The storm washed out the bridge and we only had twenty feet to go. The engineer couldn't see it because of the heavy rain. What I don't understand is how you knew the bridge was out."

"But I didn't. The marines . . . Where are they?"

From behind her came a voice and the marines walked over to her. "Happy birthday, Sis," said the taller of the two. He then reached into his pocket and retained a small package. John and I have been trying to catch up with you all morning, but you seemed to be trying to evade us. You act as if you've seen a ghost, Joan.

Maybe I have, but it was a mighty nice ghost after all."

ROOM FOR RENT

One June afternoon, Barbara Carlton, a student nurse, rented an apartment in a suburb in Kingston. She was in training and had selected this neighbourhood because of its high recommendation by other nurses. After meeting the landlady, a very sweet, motherly type of woman, she felt she had better get in some groceries. When Barbara had unpacked and had the apartment arranged to suit her fancy, she started for the store. On her way, she noticed what a lovely neighbourhood it was. She felt quite happy and satisfied as she was returning from the store.

Upon her return, she entered her apartment, and with quite a surprise, she noticed that the furniture had been changed. "Why how silly of me, she thought, entering the wrong apartment!" She quietly slipped out and as she did she noticed that the number on the door appeared to be correct. With that sudden jolt of mind, she said to herself, "I am in the right apartment!"

Just then, the door opened and standing there was a middle aged woman with a disgusted look on her face. "Did you want something?" she rudely inquired.

"Yes, as a matter of fact, I do," Barbara explained, "I live here!"

"How absurd! I live here!"

With her mind awlirl, Barbara then realized the one way of solving this mystery, was to inquire of the landlady. When she reached the owner's office she felt very sure of herself, honestly feeling the other woman would be put out of the apartment. The landlady appeared and told her outright that she was sorry, but she had no room to let. Completely bewildered, Barbara then explained, "But Mrs. Comstock, I'm Barbara Carlton and I just rented 3A1!"

Mrs. Comstock then added with a peculiar note in her voice, "Why my dear, you must be mistaken. I have never seen you before." She then glanced at her queerly and added "If you don't leave now I will be forced to telephone the police."

"Perhaps you had better" added Barbara, "so we can once and for all straighten this misunderstanding out."

The police arrived, the facts were aired, and all parties concerned questioned. The police had come to a decision. Barbara overheard two policemen talking. One said, "Personally, I think the Carlton girl is crazy; we had better notify the chief." Upon hearing this, Barbara frantically clutched her head and suddenly felt an overpowering wave of blackness surrounding her. As consciousness slowly crept into her mind her first thoughts went to the ice cold object she was gripping. She turned her head only to realize she was holding the handle to her suitcase and that she was lying on a chintz-covered couch in 3A1. She jumped suddenly to her feet and looked over the room. Everything was the same; nothing at all was changed. Immediately realization struck her. It had been nothing but a horrible dream. It was over and then she remembered, she had been so exhausted after her unpacking she must have fallen asleep.

Just then the doorbell rang. She answered it and standing there was the middle-aged woman who, in her dream had taken over 3A1. In the distance, she heard the woman sweetly say, "My name is Elizabeth Fitzgerald. I am your new neighbour in 3B1 and I was wondering if perhaps I might be of some assistance to you in becoming settled."

SPORTSMANSHIP ON THE PART OF SPECTATORS AND TEAMS

Recently during the extra-curricular sports program in the Sarnia high schools, there have been two outbursts of unsportsman-like conduct. The one occurring out at Northern Collegiate was caused mainly by the spectators, while the happening at the arena was due to the participating teams.

There are three main rules that the spectators should abide by when attending these sports attractions. First, cheer for your own team as if you want them to win, but do not criticize the other team for scoring points. The opposition will score no matter what persons say or do. Secondly, if during a game the referee makes a call that in your opinion is a bad one, try to live with it anyway. For one reason, the referee is closer to the play than any spectator and he knows that if he does not call a game "close" to start with, it might get out of hand and trouble could brew on the playing surface. Another reason is that close plays at the beginning of the game allow the game to be played faster and with less infractions of the rules. Last, keep order in the stands. If the fans from other schools are seated near you, do not try to drown out the cheers for their team but help them cheer for any good plays their team has carried out, so that they will do the same for you and your school.

Participating teams should strive to keep to these following rules. First, the officials are asked to call the games as they see fit, so try not to dispute their calls. Secondly, play as hard as you can, but if you are losing don't start to get rough. Admit to yourself that the other team is equally as good as you, which they sometimes are. Thirdly, if you get pushed, let the offence go; don't try to get in the last shove. The fans don't go for the rough play and neither do your team-mates, so if you want to fight, wait until after the game. Always remember when attending or participating in sports, that it is not your right but a special privilege, which may be revoked at any time. The sports program helps to keep the school's morale, so let's keep the sports here.
